

Dear Parents,

We are going to offer two ACT test preparation courses during the Spring Semester. These courses will be offered during Zero Hour from 7:00 to 7:50 a.m. Monday through Thursday for four weeks. Each week of the three week sessions will cover one of the parts of the ACT test. The course will not count as an elective credit.

Our instructor for the ACT preparatory course is Dr. Daryll Cordeiro.

Course One will start January 17, 2012. This course is recommended for those students who have registered for the ACT test which will be administered on February 11, 2012 (must register for the test by January 5), but it is open to any interested student.

Week One - January 17-20

Week Two – January 23-26

Week Three – January 30-February 2

Mock Exam-February 2

Course Two will start March 12, 2012. This course is recommended for those students who have registered for the ACT test which will be administered on April 14, 2012 (must register for the test by February 26), but it is open to any interested student.

Week One- March 12-15

Week Two – March 19-22

Week Three – March 26-29

Mock Exam – March 31

The courses will be limited to fifteen students each and will be held in room 8300 of the McGill Building

The cost of the course will be $100.00 which will cover the cost of the textbook and instructor.

I hope many of our students will take advantage of this opportunity.
